

Additional Benefits of a tekomp Europe University Membership

Tangible Benefits:

In addition to the benefits of an individual membership, we offer the following privileges to college/university members:

- Up to 5 persons can be registered as members and will receive all services offered by the association. Memberships are transferable within the college/university. Furthermore it is possible to re-register members at any time – free of charge.
- The contact persons put forward by the college or university members will receive regular calls for papers or invitations to lectures for events like the European Academic Colloquium and tekomp conferences.
- University members can advertise job offers in the magazines 'tcworld magazine' (in English) or 'technische kommunikation' (in German). For the current Media Kit please contact +49 711 65704-52, -57 or sales@tekomp.de.
- As part of their university membership, university members receive free copies of the professional journal 'technische kommunikation' (in German) and 'tcworld magazine' (in English), one copy per registered member.
- Free participation at the annual tekomp fair as part of the college booth. Includes 2 persons as booth personnel, for whom participation at the tekomp annual conference is free.

Intangible Benefits:

- tekomp Europe supports colleges or universities in contacting industrial enterprises to promote networking between colleges/universities and the industry.
- College or university members are invited to the European Academic Colloquium, a special event for academia.
- University members are offered involvement/collaboration in qualification programs (e.g. certification for technical communicators).
- tekomp Europe also supports colleges or universities in placing guest speakers at their institutions.
